KoKos International Trach Inc. launches Sonaki Vitamin Shower, the revolutionary eco-friendly shower head, with free in-home 30-day trial.

The Sonaki Vitamin Shower will enable anyone to experience the cost savings and health benefits of the only shower head with natural antioxidant Vitamin-C filter technology, free for 30 days.

BROOMALL, PA – May 21, 2010 – KoKos International Trach, Inc., announced today a free 30-day trial offer to try the World's first and only eco-friendly showerhead with natural antioxidant Vitamin-C filter technology, the Sonaki Vitamin Shower. The new free trial will enable anyone to try risk free the ultimate shower experience, and save money at the same time.

The Sonaki Vitamin Shower is a handheld shower head that attaches to a shower or bath nozzle creating a filtered, vitamin-C enriched shower for a healthier and more pleasant shower/bathing experience. The shower filters out 99.9% of the harmful chlorine and chloramine contained in tap water and improves dry and itchy skin conditions, protects dyed and permed hair, and rejuvenates, revives and protects skin. The shower has three soothing modes of operation: shower, massage and jet, works great in hot and cold water, and uses 40% less water than conventional shower heads, providing a savings of $180 annually or about 15,000 gallons.*

For a limited time, Sonaki Vitamin Shower is offering the revolutionary shower head free for 30 days with a payment of only $12.95 for shipping and handling. The Sonaki Vitamin Shower 30-Day Trial Deluxe package includes everything needed to experience the ultimate shower experience including, the Vitamin Shower head, 2 extra Vitamin-C cartridges, a five-foot stainless steel hose, a wall-mounting unit and Teflon tape. After 30 days and once completely satisfied, the customer will be billed for the unit at a reduced price of $68.53 (plus tax if applicable), 23% off the suggested retail price. If not completely satisfied the customer only needs to return the Vitamin Shower, no questions asked.

"Saving money and creating a healthier environment are at the forefront of everyone's mind," indicated Joseph Lee, CEO of KoKos International Trach Inc., the exclusive distributor of Sonaki Vitamin Shower. "That's why we are very pleased to offer the Sonaki Vitamin Shower through our 30-day free trial so anyone can try what our customers experience everyday – cost savings, and a more healthy and enjoyable shower.

Darlene Seale shared her experience in utilizing the Sonaki Vitamin Shower. "I noticed from the very first shower how the water felt completely different. My skin wasn't dry, so I didn't need to apply lotion, and washing my hair was a new experience - no flaky skin and the texture and finish were so much better than before," said Seale.

Eileen Edelblute used the Vitamin Shower with her Great Dane, Gabe. "I almost thought he wasn't going to get out of the shower," says Edelblute. "He was nice and clean...the shower head left no soap in his coat and I didn't have to use a conditioner he was so soft."

In addition to providing a healthier and more pleasant shower/bathing experience for the entire family including pets, the Vitamin Shower showcases the proud partnership with EPA's Water Sense Program as their commitment to offering innovative and eco-friendly products that perform better than their less-efficient counterparts.

"Americans now use an average of 100 gallons of water each day; enough to fill 1,600 drinking glasses," indicated James Lee, Chief Marketing Officer of KoKos International Trach Inc. "This increased demand has put additional stress on water supplies and distribution systems, threatening both human health and the environment. By replacing a conventional shower head with a water efficient shower head like Sonaki Vitamin Shower, you're not only saving hundreds of dollars for your household, but also contributing to saving the environment.

KoKos International Trach, Inc.'s Sonaki Vitamin Shower has been featured on HGTV, and in USA Today and Pet Business Magazine.
